

Senior Management Sustainability report 2020

For the businesses of JBR Recovery Ltd, sustainability is an extremely important aspect. Therefore, it is essential that – in the interest of JBR’s customers and stakeholders, upstream and downstream– we work towards fully integrated sustainability in all functions including but not limited to sourcing and manufacturing.

JBR precious metal services cover all steps of the precious metal chain including precious metal trading, precious metal recycling and the manufacturing of value adding precious metals products including but not limited to Good Delivery silver bars.

As such we are innovating products for a large variety of applications and we are delivering our services and products to many industries such as the chemical, the electronics, the jewellery, refining and banking industries.

As a leading UK precious metal refiner sustainability is a key strategic pillar of our business strategy. We invest substantial resources to create and implement sustainability standards to promote our growth and success across different markets.

As a leading Silver Good Delivery refiner, we establish, sustain and continually improve the highest sustainability standards for ourselves and our stakeholders, in line with LBMA Responsible Silver Guidance.

It is our company policy to act with honesty & transparency, to not support fraud, corruption or any other illegal activity, maintaining high moral, environmental, ethical & social standards, cultivating proper business relationships with all counterparts, upstream and downstream, seek good & transparent relations with governmental & non-governmental organisations, having fair & responsible relations with employees & all other stakeholders.
